- 1. North Korean People's Army (NKPA) guerrilla troops have been reorganized under the jurisdiction of CH'OE Yong-kon, the chief of staff, of the NKPA. The headquarters is planning to collect 30,000 troops selected from members of Communist parties and societies. The recruits are to receive 2 weeks' training in their home county and then will be sent behind the ROK lines. The troops will be drawn from young men between the ages of 16 and 30, and unmarried women between 17 and 25. Guerrilla members have been promised police and Labor Party positions after the end of the war.
- 2. The North Korean government is investigating all employees of the People's Committees and Communist Party in occupied ROK areas. Persons to be purged include those who came to ROK from North Korea after 1945, former ROK officials, former officials under the Japanese Government General, and members of all parties except the South Korean Labor Party (SKLP).
- 3. The North Korean-appointed Minister of Justice for South Korea has ordered travel controls for all occupied areas of the ROK. The controls will be enforced by the NKPA. All persons traveling over 12 kilometers from their homes must possess travel permits issued by the police of their residence district. Application for the permit must be signed by guarantors known to the police. The only persons excepted from complying with this order are the police and members of the NKLP and the SKLP.
